

Beta Sigma Kappa Optometric Honor Society

Beta Sigma Kappa Optometric Honor Society Donation Request

Beta Sigma Kappa (BSK) is optometry's honor society. The mission of BSK is "to stimulate scientific attainment, academic excellence and the ethical practice of optometry and to promote and provide financial support for worthy research projects relating to vision care and the eyes."

Founded in 1925 by a small group of optometrists in Illinois, Beta Sigma Kappa now has student chapters at every ACOE accredited school and college of optometry. BSK members are honor students in the schools and colleges of optometry, as well as noteworthy professionals in the field—educators, scientists, and practitioners. To be eligible for BSK membership, a student must attain a grade point average of 3.5 or higher. Membership can be continued after graduation. Currently, there are over 6,000 BSK members.

The Society supports the formation of student chapters and works with the schools and colleges to develop programs that foster academic excellence. Through membership dues and donations, BSK provides funding for student and faculty research projects and travel funds for students to attend the American Academy of Optometry meeting.

BSK is currently requesting donations to expand activities that support our mission, specifically recognizing exceptional students and providing funding for optometric research.
